Project Description:

In this project, we supported an internationally active multi-brand owner in selecting a PDM/PLM system. Using a standardized method for capturing requirements for a new IT system, we compiled a requirements catalogue together with the relevant business units and with the involvement of IT.

On this basis, we prepared a preliminary selection from the market of potential partners and systems as a foundation for the client's initial exploratory meetings.

In those meetings, the vendors presented specific system functionalities with reference to the compiled requirements catalogue and were then evaluated using a proven fit/gap check methodology from the GCS Consulting toolset, in order to provide the client with a reliable basis for decision-making (including initial cost indications for the implementation).
